Quelle: https://manuscripta.at/?ID=8269
Copyright: Salzburg, Universitätsbibliothek

Juris regula, quod in claris nullis coniecturis locus supersit, & cum in verbis nulla es ambiguitas, nulla admittitur voluntatis quaestio & non aliter à significatione verborum recedendum esse, quam cum manifestum sit aliud sensisse disponentem &c. ~~[illegible]~~ observiren ~~[illegible]~~.

Wie es ~~[illegible]~~ auch der Doctor, so per aduersarium Dominum consultorem supra dicto loco amplius in contrarium allegatur: tum de natura sub feudorum quomodo resoluto fo: 27. Jure datoris etiam Jus acceptoris resoluatur: tum etiam de tacito subintellectu clausula
v. b. rebus sic stantibus & ad nouum statum dispositione non extendenda, item de transactionibus strictè secundum rem & causam de qua controuersia fuerit, intelligendis & alijs similibus communibus theoricis ~~[illegible]~~, ~~[illegible]~~ ~~[illegible]~~ in terminis recti proprij feudi, ~~[illegible]~~ hoc respectu conditionati & impropriam naturam habentis est, quod fuerit alienabile, & ad omnes haeredes & successores cum Baronatu transitorium. ~~[illegible]~~ Datoris Jus hoc casu ~~[illegible]~~ finiert, ~~[illegible]~~ ~~[illegible]~~ auch Jus acceptoris ~~[illegible]~~ ex finguiert ~~[illegible]~~.

~~[illegible]~~