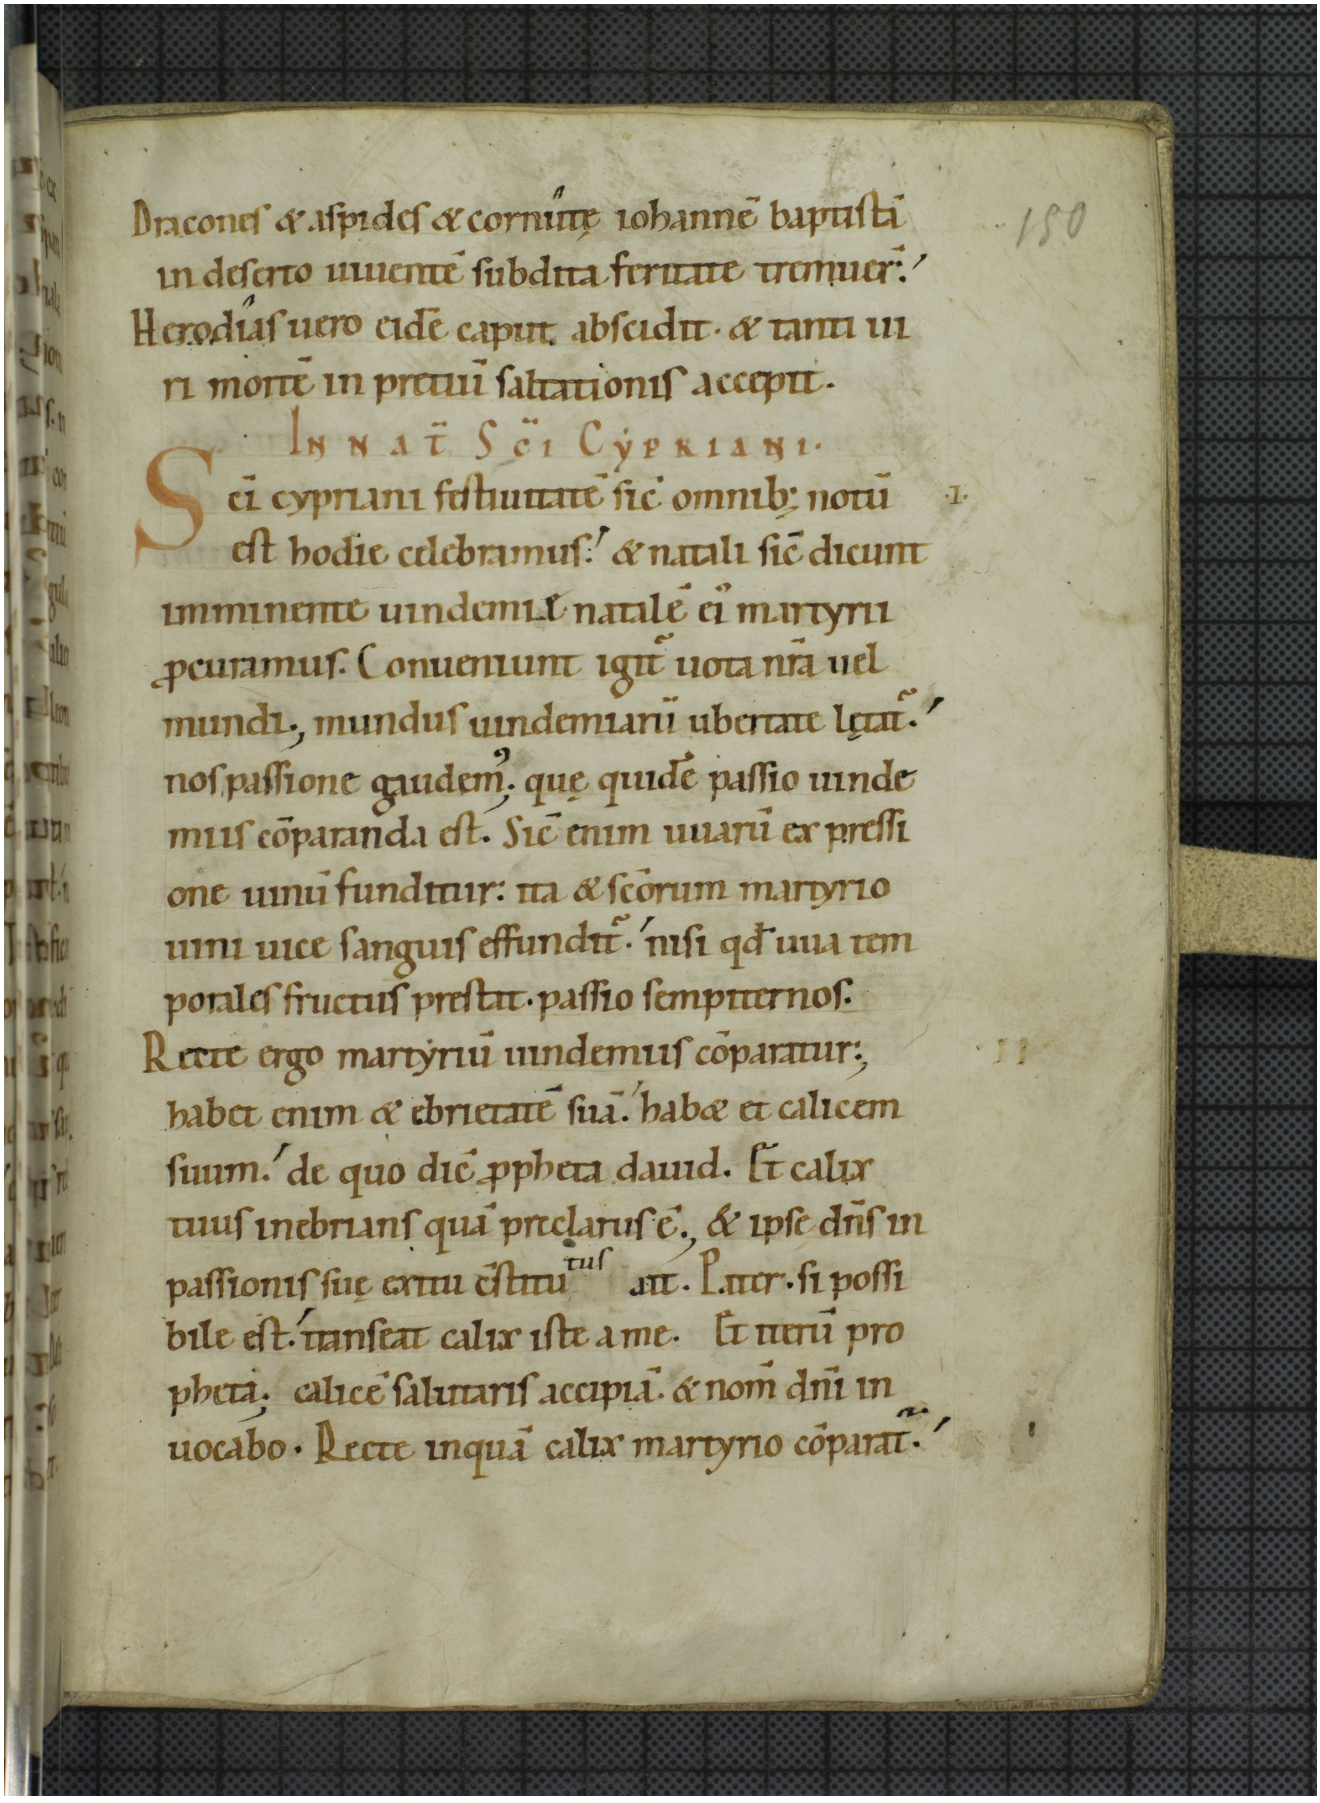
Quelle: http://manuscripta.at/?ID=26258
Copyright: Admont, Benediktinerstift



Dracones & aspides & cornutę iohannē baptistā in deserto uuentē subdita feritate tremuer.
Herodias uero eidē caput abscidit. & tanti uiri morte in pretiū saltationis accepit.

In nat̄ Sc̄i Cypriani.

Sc̄i cypriani festiuitatē sic omnib; notū est hodie celebramus. & natali sic̄ dicunt imminente uindemias natale ei martyrii procuramus. Conueniunt igit̄ uota nr̄a uel mundi, mundus uindemiarū ubertate l̄ętat̄. nos passione quidem. quę quidē passio uinde mias cōparanda est. Sic̄ enim uuarū ex pressi one uinū fundit̄ur: ita & sc̄orum martyrio uini uice sanguis effundit̄. nisi qđ uua tem poralis fructus prestat. passio sempiternos.
Recte ergo martyriū uindemias cōparatur; habet enim & ebrietatē suā. habet et calicem suum. de quo dic̄ pphēta dauid. Et calix tuus inebrians quā preclarus ē. & ipse dn̄s in passionis suę exitu dixit tus aut. Pater. si possi bile est. transeat calix iste a me. Et iterū pro phēta; calicē salutaris accipiā. & nom̄ dn̄i in uocabo. Recte inquā calix martyrio cōparat̄.