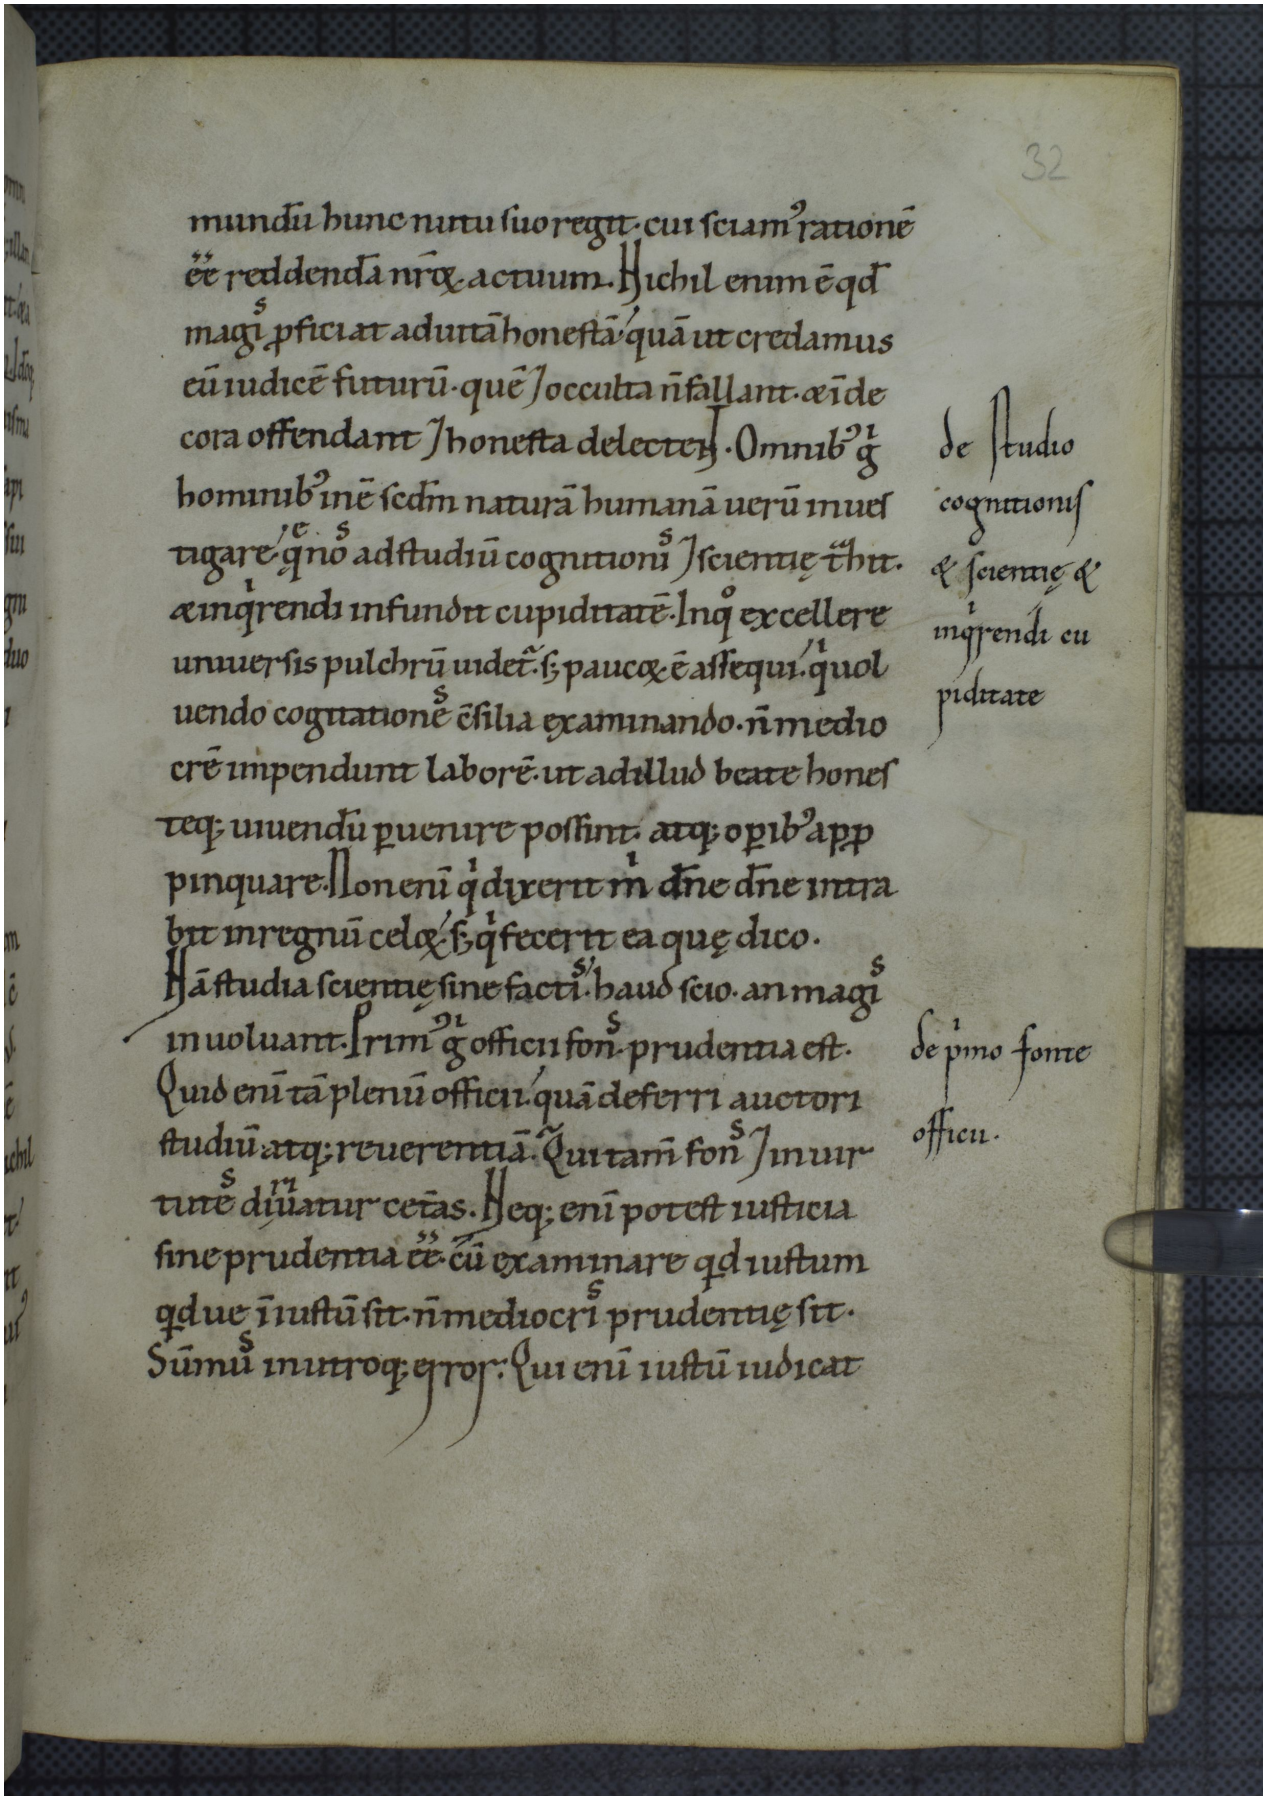
Quelle: https://manuscripta.at/?ID=26265
Copyright: Admont, Benediktinerstift



32

mundū hunc nutu suo regit. cui sciam rationē ēe reddendā nrōz actuum. Nichil enim ēqd magis pficiat aduitā honestā quā ut credamus eū iudicē futurū. quē occulta nfallant. eī de cora offendant honesta delectent. Omnib hoīb hominib inē scdm naturā humanā uerū inues tigare. ḡno ad studiū cognitionis scientiē tēt. æinqrendi infundit cupiditatē. Inq excellere unuersis pulchrū uidet. ꝛ paucoz ē assequi. quol uendo cogitationē ēlia examinando. ñ mediō crē impendunt laborē. ut adillud beate honeſ teq; uiuendū puenire possint. atq; opib appꝑ pinquare. Non enī qdixerit mihi dne dne intra bit in regnū celoz ꝑ qfecerit ea quę dico.
Nā studia scientiē sine facti. haud scio. an magis in uoluant. Prim qd officii fons prudentia est.
Quid enī tā plenū officii quā deferri auctori studiū atq; reuerentiā. Quitam fons inuir tute diuiatur cetas. Neq; enī potest iustitia sine prudentia ēe. cū examinare qd iustum qdue in iustū sit. ñ mediocri prudentię sit.
Sūmū in utroq; error. Qui enī iustū iudicat de studio cognitionis & scientię & inqrendi cupiditate de primo fonte officii.